

There's A Last Time For Everything

Division of Laura Lee

Lust obsession and patience
That is all there is, and your nasty hiss
Trust is no longer lasting
When i'm gone, you move on
Cause there's a last time for everything
Yea, there's a last time for everything
Power money and broken dreams
That is all you've seen
All fantasies fading
Cause your vision's mean, but please dig in
Cause there's a last time for everything
Yea, there's a last time for everything
Footprints in the window
From someone who's my friend
That will be my doorway
When i'm back again
There's a last time for everything
There's a last time for everything
Yea, there's a last time for everything
Footprints in the window
From someone who's my friend
That will be my doorway
When i'm back again
