Save The Day

Dizmas

It's raining in my life today and it won't seem to fade My heart feels like a ten-pound brick and I need to hear you say

When the world is on my shoulders
When it feels like hope is nowhere
You will save the day
When it feels like life is chaos You'll be there reminding me that
You will save the day
You will save the day

Why do I forget the words that you spoke to me?
Their ringing in my ear it's so crystal clear that you won't leave me

So tell it to me once again
Tell me 'til I understand

When my face is on the ground and I'm crying outloud When there's no one else around
You will save the day
