I don't think niggas was listening Shit, when Pac tried to warn us, tell us how these Government niggas was always on us People say they real but they don't keep it a hundred and they say the world ending but they still building bunkers 2012's coming and everybody nervous but I swear the government did that bullshit on perpous Puttin' movies out. Scarin' us, not really preparin' us and none of our idols don't really care enough to say shit
So we just a fucked up generation, so much technology, but bad communication Education's lacking, school is a fashion show Girls selling they body just so they stack some dough Damn see we don't got a fucking message
The shit that we promote is being 16 and pregnant And the more that we promote it, the more it goes in motion
And these 16 year olds when they get on TV just to show it
We hopeless but that the oldest I'm a spend weeks on it Dedicate my life just so you can hear me speak on it Some say I'm trippin' some say I'm the bravest Mind like 2Pac, and he died in Las Vegas
He left the torch to me to talk to the younginz
To tell you that we can't fear we can't keep running Stand up with some balls, stand up to the people who just wanna see us fall.
And when we do, will they applaud? Nah Cause they just wanna see you when you at your worst And they rather us do dirt than really work for what we're worth
Man, I swear this shit hurts they killing our children Cause they not really living, cause they think the worlds ending
So respect is at it's lowest and all the people playing us
Cause back in the day people actually gave a fuck
We didn't look up with a 2Pac Shakur, all we got is rappers throwin' money that make us want more Damn, Illuminati gettin' to these niggas.
That's why I'm with my niggas stayin' distant from these niggas
Listen to a nigga, they out here clappin' people, this big chain big money shit distractin' people When we got a black president, yeah that's a fact But half of yall voted knowing that president was black 'Cause people didn't care, if he could change instantly
They just wanted to say that blacks made history
To prove these white people wrong, like it's a blessin'
Its 2011 and we still in the recession
'Cause Barack Obama, can't do it by his self, and I don't see nobody tryna help It's killing my soul that my daughter gotta be born into this hell

How she supposed to enjoy life if it's over in 2012?
Nah fuck that, I ain't 'bout to feed to that nonsense,
I ain't 'bout to believe in that nonsense Nigga I'm a problem
