

Faith

Dogwood

I have faith no one believes
I love a God no one can see
You put your trust into thin air
That's what they all told me

But I believed because of fear
And I can see you crystal clear
I know that you will Meet me here

I walk the narrow path
Perplexed and befuddled
I'm persecuted
Plagued and I'm troubled

My past's my history
My future's a mystery
There's only one certain thing
And that's for sure

That's my God who is so real
He makes my life easier to deal
With the aid of his goodness
I experience true bliss
Do you understand your life
Is in his hands?

Confusion is my hat
Centrifuge of hurt
Is where I'm at
I request some help with that

My past's my history
My future's a mystery
There's only one certain thing
And that's for sure

That'S my God who is so real
He makes my life easier to deal
With the aid of his goodness
I experience true bliss
Do you understand your life
Is in his hands?

I have faith no one believes
I love a God no one can see
You put your trust into thin air
That's what they all told me
