Dogwood

Has time forgotten my face?
Stilled, I'm not through.
I feel I've myself to blame.
I can't escape your name.
All of it, my own shame.
I feel time moving on.
Small words and big motives all so untrue.
And I've nothing left to say.
You've taken my words away.
Save for another day when we'll be different now.
Time for another way. Suffer my own mistakes.
Dream of another day when you'll think different.
Why did you go away.
The sun won't come out today.
You've taken my world away.
Why did you go away?
