

But there's something else there.
It's in all our hearts... on the tip of our tongues.
And you don't believe. But what if there is?
What if you're wrong? They don't understand.
It's like you got framed. People are dumb.
You take all the blame. You're all that I need.
You're all that I have. You're all that I want.