If I Were a Carpenter

Dolly Parton

If I were a carpenter And you were a lady, Would you marry me anyway? Would you have my baby?

If a tinker were my trade Would you still find me, Carrin' the pots I made, Followin' behind me.

Save my love through loneliness, Save my love for sorrow, I'm given you my onliness, Come give your tomorrow.

If I worked my hands in wood, Would you still love me?
Answer me babe, "Yes I would, I'll put you above me."

If I were a miller
At a mill wheel grinding,
Would you miss your color box,
And your soft shoe shining?

If I were a carpenter
And you were a lady,
Would you marry me anyway?
Would you have my baby?
Would you marry anyway?
Would you have my baby?
