

How

Dolores O'Riordan

Look, you're standing alone
(Standing alone)
However I should have known
(I should have known)

Never before, never before
Never again, never again
You will ignore, you will ignore
I will pretend, I will pretend

In your world,
You're alone in your face
Your alone in your world
Your alone in your face

How you said you never would leave me alone
How you said you never would leave me alone

Now you're just walking away
(Walking away)
When you said you always would stay
Always would stay
