

Exile

Domina Noctis

This rain so mellow
These words so shallow
And I'm lost
In my own shadows
The queen of dark clouds
And I know
The sound of distance
Like dark blue oceans
And I float
Across tides
And far from islands
And I fall
I gliss on the surface
And see the depths of the sea

My love, my exile
Bringing the sound of this
Song from afar
Taking my soul far from me
My body and mind
Blaming and blessing
This chance to escape this agony

I hear you calling
I cannot wake up
From this dream
That takes me inside
Its silent womb
Where I can sleep
So sound is my sleep
I feel like I was dead
I won't
Turn back
To your embrace
Where I belong

My love, my exile
Bringing the sound of this
Song from afar
Taking my soul far from me
My body and mind
Blaming and blessing
This chance to escape this agony

Will you find me
By the thunder?
Will you see me
Through the fog?
Will you find me
When I am far?
Will you catch me
As I fall?

My love, my exile
Bringing the sound of this
Song from afar
Taking my soul far from me

My body and mind
Blaming and blessing
