

The Prince In The Scarlet Robe

Domine

Knight of the swords, you of the great old Gods
A new age has just begun Forged in the fire of hate, vengeance and betrayal
The race of man has come to rule

Queen of the swords, you of the great old Gods Darkest lady of the deepest realm You will know fear, sharper than a spear and you'll be banished from these planes
By the hand of the prince in the scarlet robe

He's sworn to destroy all Gods by the power of the cosmic balance He's chosen to save this world save the race who betrayed his own A quest in a time unknown to bring peace forevermore Survivor with a noble role
The prince in the scarlet robe

King of the swords, you of the great old Gods Summon now your dukes of hell Faceless lord of chaos, your golden sword will not save you and you will fall to your destiny
By the eye of the prince in the scarlet robe

Now that Gods are no more Law is ruling the fifteen planes
No more cities in the sky, no more oceans of light Find a new dimension where new Gods can be created and destroyed again by the eye, by the hand of the prince in the scarlet robe
