

Cryin' Eyes

Don Williams

Could you just tell me how you're feelin'
Lately that's all I want to know
We've been actin' so deceiving
You're holdin' on and lettin' go

Cryin' eyes don't give a reason
Lips don't always say what's so
When you touch me, I'm believin'
You really don't want me to go

They say in life there comes a season
We don't know the answer why
Without any rhyme or reason
Folks drift apart and say goodbye

Cryin' eyes don't give a reason
Lips don't always say what's so
When you touch me, I'm believin'
You really don't want me to go

Cryin' eyes don't give a reason
Lips don't always say what's so
When you touch me, I'm believin'
You really don't want me to go
