

Expert At Everything

Don Williams

No one could love me
The way that you love me
But is it a matter of time.
But each time you hold me
The way that you hold me
Time never crosses my mind.

We all took chances
Sometimes too many
So, I'll take some chances myself.
'Cause you're an expert at everything
I never thought of and
Real good at everything else.

You give me kisses
For no special reason
No special reason's enough.
You never wait till the
Party's all over
To show me
I'm the one you love.

You never do me
The way that they did me
'Cause look what you've done
With what was left
You're an expert at everything
I never thought of and
Real good at everything else.

You give me kisses
For no speacial reason
No special reason's enough.
You never wait till the
Party's all over
To show me
I'm the one you love.

You never do me
The way that they did me
'Cause look what you've done
With what was left
You're an expert at everything
I never thought of and
Real good at everything else.
