

Woman You Should Be in Movies

Don Williams

You said I was all you ever needed
It was me to capture your spirits high
Well, you're the only one who'd ever fool me
You broke my heart without me knowing why

Woman you should be in movies
Acting out some all important parts
Woman you should be in movies
Instead of breaking real people's hearts

Life felt so alive when I was with you
Inside me you made a place feel warm
But you should win a price for where you put me
'Cause it appears another loser's born

Woman you should be in movies
Acting out some all important parts
Woman you should be in movies
Instead of breaking real people's hearts...
