

1000 Miles

Donna Lewis

you
face the world alone
seeking out the freedom needing to be heard
to be loved

you
need to find a way
you have the courage and the grace to give up the patience and the pain underneath it all

I hear you

a thousand miles away
i feel you close
your watchful gaze
a thousand miles away
spring tides racing all the day
a thousand miles away
living warm inside me always

you
weep without a sound side stepping in this confusion never a spoken word

I know you're love starved a secret locked in your heart
I hear you

your watchful gaze
spring tides racing all the day
a thousand miles away
your heart is in my heart every single day
a thousand miles away

you need a clear way
