I Need Time

Donna Summer

Five to nine Early Sunday morning around breakfast time I heard a sudden tapping at the kitchen door Oh and there was more Well it was you I saw No mistake I knew you'd come around that sad look on your face Then you begged me to come in and I said yes Oh what a fool I am I should have turned away I need time To turn the time around To let it all hang out To fight my fear and fight my doubt I need time To turn the time around (get ahold) of love Spoken words don't mean enough No mistake Remember not to break the promise that you make I'll meet you fifty fifty in the middle now And I won't back out There'd better be no doubt I need time To turn the time around Little did I know that love would bring you to my door I need time To turn the time around Little did I know that love was on our side I love you you know I You know I always will love you now I know I do love you You know I'll always be true to you my love Here you stand Torn up yellow T-shirt and guitar in hand I wanna love you now Oh forget the past I wanna make love last I need time To turn the time around Let it all hang out Love will bring you back again I need time To turn the time around Little did I know that I love will bring you back again
