

reason-who needs it anyway when feelings are the only things that count where nobody knows where it can be found indecision - gets you nowhere changes are made, they dont come around silence- gets you nowhere baby who needs to hear when you dont make a sound well there must be urges which you cant deny (see through the veil of smoke ashes tell you to go) go and find the flames (i know that you have cried) but i know you?re gonna find a light someday
speak - the words that alleviate the hurt thats almost choking you speak - the words that illustrate that the fire inside is burning anew torch - light the darkest way to the place where every word is true burn - until the very day when you find somebody just like you
