

Calling

Donots

All I want is everything
Is that too much to ask?
All want is the here and know
The future and the past
This is the moment
This is tried and true
Being lonely ain't no fun
When I'm not with you
I'm calling you
Calling, calling
Calling your name
All I want is one more chance
To prove myself to you
All I know is I am best
At what I do not do
This is the moment
This will see me through
Now all that's left is to pretend
I'm calling you
I'm calling you
Calling, calling
Calling your name
Calling, calling
Now I'm calling your name
And I keep on holding on to you
But I can barely hold my own
I keep on holding on to you
And I can't even hold my own
Calling, calling
Calling your name
Calling, calling
Now I'm calling your name
All I want is everything
Is that too much to ask?
All want is the here and know
The future and the past
But I can't even hold my own
Calling, calling
Now I'm calling your name
