

Elbow And A Smile

Donots

So you think everybody's an open door and you're convinced you have to give much more to your mind their demeanour indicates concern well, you'll be sunrised how much there is to learn we're a minority we're are too kind to survive egoism is essential an eternal smile can't save your Life don't believe the're out to help you we're on our own, this world is on so cold don't believe the're out to help you they want to cast us into their mould but as long as there are people like you and me there is colour to paint the world let's keep the positivity and get ready to get hurt with an elbow and a smile in the land of elbows (dedicated to Axel P. yesterday i woke up to reality at first i didn't realize that not everything was about sunshine flowers, kids playing in a park and birds singing top 40 hits but then i stood back and found out that reality is an asshole boy, that can mess up the afternoon,i tell ya)
