

Reminder

Donots

and as everybody dies a little each day just to kill some pain and as everybody tries to change his ways just to stay the same i dedicate these lines to you
reminder
if everything gets out of hand
reminder
and if everybody climbs out of his sorrow just to fall back tomorrow and as everybody tries to be special just to remain the superficial we have got to cling to what we believe in we have got to dwell on our memories (yeah) we have got to believe that our thoughts cross borders and tear down the walls piece by piece thats why...
reminder
if everything gets out of hand
reminder
just remember that i am your friend
