An answer that you should not ask
And the answer is the question
And the question is the task.

As I stroll down through my madness
Without worry or warning
Dark before the depths of sadness
Breathing through the grey morning.

Deep within the silent forest, in the darkest hour of night
Gleams a gleaming so wondrous, could it be the pale moonlight?
Nay luna ne'r can enter, forests dark and deep as these See, it is the secret Goddess wandering amidst her trees.

Gonna do all the things I never done before
I gonna get myself together somehow
Gonna do all the things I never done before
