

I'm idle
I've never seen someone do so much nothing, for so long
An ongoing standstill
Like algae growing
A collection of dust
Nothing doing
Fuck all

The more I try I can't decide which idle am I.

You're my idol
I worship the ground you walk you walk upon
Either of us know why we keep it that way
I idolize blindly, my eyes averted
My life means nothing
It's you I'm interested in

The more I try I can't decide which idol am I.

Which one am I?
Which won am I?

An idyl
A Picture
idyllically in my mind
I envisioned it
I dreamed of it
Take me there...
Right now
This is all I've ever wanted
An idyl
My idyll

The more I try I can't decide which idyl am I.
