

Deeper Than That

Doug Stone

With a closet full of clothes, she's got nothing to wear
It's almost time to go and she can't do a thing with her hair
She asks me, "Do I look alright?"
I said, "Baby you look just fine"

But my love goes deeper, my love goes deeper than that
The beauty I see can't be bought off a rack
When God made her he used heaven and earth, he held nothing back
But my love goes deeper, my love goes deeper than that

We're out on the town, so she thought we'd celebrate
We raised our glass and toasted in memory of our first date
Looking back we've come so far
I'm still proud when she's on my arm

But my love goes deeper, my love goes deeper than that
The beauty I see can't be bought off a rack
When God made her he used heaven and earth, he held nothing back
But my love goes deeper, my love goes deeper than that

When God made her he used heaven and earth, he held nothing back
But my love goes deeper, my love goes deeper than that
My love goes deeper, my love goes deeper than that
