

One Heartache At A Time

Doug Stone

She knows who I am she knows what I do I'm a high rolling dreamer that never comes through but she won't criticize and she doesn't complain she hides all the hurt and she lives with the pain

But I know I'm losing her one heartache at a time I see it in her eyes each time I cross another line she'll say that she forgives she'll say that we'll be fine but she's falling out of love one heartache at a time

All she wants is someone with his feet on the ground but all she's got is a jerk that keeps letting her down she knows I can't change so she doesn't get mad and when she thinks I'm not looking she looks so sad

And I know I'm losing her one heartache at a time I see it in her eyes each time I cross another line she'll say that she forgives she'll say that we'll be fine but she's falling out of love one heartache at a time

Brige Every single tear I made her cry brings her one step closer to good bye she'll say that she forgives she'll say that we'll be fine but she's falling out of love one heartache at a time she's falling out of love one heartache at a time
