

The one

Down By Law

If I could be the one
Then you know I'd be the one
Knock down walls built up around me
Building blocks only I can see
Close my eyes
The dream begins
It's black and white
Then you wake up again
My mind is blank for you
Draw on it what you will
Try the truth, you try my patience
I draw on strength you'll never know
How could you draw me?
I close my eyes
The dream begins
It's black and white
Then you wake up again
