

Best Day

Downstait

It was never meant to cause you so much pain
I really meant you well
And no one understands the way it came to be
And I will always think about it
Always try to live without it

I could say "Yeah" in one million ways
Tell you "Don't worry" but what would that change?
I knew what I had, but I gave it away
I still can't remember our best day

In deciding if I could've made it work
I have to hold my head
And understand the smallest things I should've done
And I will always think about it
Always try to live without it

I could say "Yeah" in one million ways
Tell you "Don't worry" but what would that change?
I knew what I had, but I gave it away
I still can't remember our best day

A sinking storm, a cloudy day
The memories, that fade away
It's alright, it's okay
Don't say anything
'Cause we don't have to deal with this today

It was never meant to cause you so much pain
I really meant you well
And no one understands the way it came to be

I could say "Yeah" in one million ways
Tell you "Don't worry" but what would that change?
I knew what I had, but I gave it away
I still can't remember our best day
