

Can You Hear Me Now

Downstait

I've been down, I've been out
Been defeated and been cheated out of things
I thought were divine
It's so hard to see what you want
Looking through eyes that are blind

Can you hear me now?
My voice so loud, can be so proud
As to think I am the better man
And no one mattered, eardrums shatter
Can you hear me now?

Tell your friends, say goodbye
I can't tell you how much it hurts
Sitting back, watching you fall, lose your mind
It's so hard to see what you want
Looking through eyes that are blind

Can you hear me now?
My voice so loud, can be so proud
As to think I am the better man
And no one mattered, eardrums shatter
Can you hear me now?

Can you hear me now?
My voice so loud, can be so proud
As to think I am the better man
And no one mattered, eardrums shatter
Can you hear me now?

Can you hear me now?
My voice so loud, can be so proud
As to think I am the better man
And no one mattered, eardrums shatter
Can you hear me now?
