

Eyesing The Blues

Dr. Dog

I try not to think
Of all the little things
And the diamond ring
I bought for you.
But the songs I sing
I wrote for you
And it's true--
ooo-oooo-oooooooo

There's a lot of schemes
I want to try
But my dreams don't include you and I.
Your bleary, weary, teary eyes sing the blues--
ooo-oooo-oooooooo

There's so many times I tried to forget.
So many rainy days that we haven't lived through yet.
But when a sunny one comes along it's love

A lot of schemes I want to try
But they don't include you and I.
Your bleary, weary, teary eyes sing the blues.

There are so many times I try to forget.
So many rainy days that we haven't lived through yet.
When a sunny one comes along
The light shines in my eyes
And I know it's love.
Love'love'love...love'love.
