

I've Just Got To Tell You

Dr. Dog

I'm gonna love you till the day I was born and I'm gonna call you so keep your ear to the horn what's the news are you sad? ain't the groom or the dad but I'm the boy who loves to love you and I'm gonna miss you till the day I come home I'm always groaning even when I'm in Rome

but what's the use if it's sad I'm only following dad I'm on the road and dreaming of you you are the reason I'm living you may be all that I love every bit as forgiving as the lord up above but what's the secret you heard you told me every word now I just gotta tell you what's the worth of darkness in the light what's the fall from sunshine every night I don't know how but I just got to tell you what's the word that means more than a word what's better than the best thing ever heard

I don't know how but I just got to tell you
