Someday

There's a tree Outside my home The sidewalks cracked out where it's roots have grown

Someday came and then left me alone. I should've known back then That I stayed too long

I should've known better I should've known better I should've known better I should've known better But I don't believe I can.

If my feet Could carve stone They'd mark a monument that is never wrong

I was a man I turned to bone I never moved and now my My will is gone

I should've known better I should've known better I should've known better I should've known better But I don't believe No I don't believe I don't believe I can
