

Once In A Lifetime

DragonForce

Dark clouds and thunderstorms in the fires and flames were born

Through darkness traveling on the night
Hellfires and rain will fall time is coming for us all
Our journey for the guiding light

Firelight it is burning so bright in the dark of the night
As we fight for the glory tonight there's nowhere to hide
On the wings of your destiny brings all the power you crave
Careful now if not you then who else will we save

Lost in this world a total stranger
Death by the sword a common danger
Daylight ahead is only lurking
Break through the walls and use the power of your dreams

Once in a lifetime take a chance at the right time the glory to see
Rise up for the time of your life
Now the time has come for you to be free

In the minds of society we all live in harmony
Truth is that we all die in vain
You stand for what you believe
I kill for what I conceive
Is there then a title for this game?

Far away in the wastelands of hell full of torment and pain
Demon knights riding over the heights where the fallen are slain
Violent fury of firestorming death now no life will prevail
Now you live all your days in the fires of hell

Lost in this world a total stranger
Death by the sword a common danger
You know that everything is not what it seems March on all night forever searching
Daylight ahead is only lurking
Break through the walls and use the power of your dreams

Once in a lifetime take a chance at the right time the glory to see...