

The Game

DragonForce

Messed up, once again told me it's OK but this path that I'm taking I'm lost in the deep end

One last chance, never more told me it's all right in this sea of denial I'm cleansed in the fire

So why is it me, am I blinded or too blind to see?
[growl] (am I too blind to see?!) why was I born?
not a part of this society?

Again and again I tried so hard, to reach for the stars but I failed you all tried to keep standing tall never had a real chance at all but still I'm searching

Same thing, different day tried to make a change left with nothing more to live for but everything to die for humanity, insanity, the everlasting grip lost all will to keep trying our bed we must lie in

So why was I born
Not a part of this society?

Again and again I tried
so hard, to reach for the stars
but I failed you all
but still I'm searching for Ten thousand ways to say sorry but life writes its own tragic story time marches onwards and nothing can ever be the same

But we'll pray for a brighter tomorrow break free from this lifetime of sorrow years pass us by but we're all just a part of the game

I tried so hard to reach for the stars
but I failed you all
but still I'm searching (2x)

For ten thousand ways to say sorry but life writes its own tragic story

break free from this lifetime of sorrow
years pass us by but we're all just a part of the game
