

Devil's Road

Dragonsfire

We are on the fast lane but
We've gone way off the track
Heading for tomorrow,
There's no time to look back
Don't care about the ashes
Of the bridges that we've burnt
Virtue and innocence will not return

The tears that you're crying,
I can't take for real
You don't want to stop,
'Cause time's a turning wheel
The road to ruin lies ahead
But money makes you blind
Reach for the stars or be left behind

In the end, see you all again, on the devil's road
In the end, see you all again, on the devil's road
See me ride down, ride down the fast lane,
The fast lane to hell
See me ride down, ride down the fast lane,
The fast lane to hell
In the end, see you all again, on the devil's road
In the end, see you all again, on the devil's road

Droughts and famines, floods are coming,
Storms and flood waves rage
Lightning, thunder, acid rain
Will end our age
Still we hunger; we want more
And know the price to pay.
We know our time is short, 'till death and decay.

Worlds are built on ignorance,
That's driving me insane
Looking for the guilty,
We've got ourselves to blame
The road to hell's a one way street,
The devil knows your name
He's got your soul and he plays his game

In the end, see you all again, on the devil's road
In the end, see you all again, on the devil's road
See me ride down, ride down the fast lane,
The fast lane to hell
See me ride down, ride down the fast lane,
The fast lane to hell
In the end, see you all again, on the devil's road
In the end, see you all again, on the devil's road

In the end, see you all again, on the devil's road
In the end, see you all again, on the devil's road
See me ride down, ride down the fast lane,
The fast lane to hell
See me ride down, ride down the fast lane,
The fast lane to hell
See me ride down, ride down the fast lane,

The fast lane to hell
See me ride down, ride down the fast lane,
The fast lane to hell
