

Kiln of the First Flame

Dragony

Riding to the edge of reason
We are the chosen ones
Wondering at the pillars of heaven
Where are the angels, the battle's begun

When in the abyss lies in wait
The gaping world devourer
And in the night we come
And rise up to the blazing skies
We are the ones who walk
Through fire and the darkest hour
And in the face of death and doom
We look through burning eyes

Rise through the fires
With the souls of the dark
Walk through the ashes
From the embers a spark

Kiln of the First Flame
Ancient tomb of the kings
Linking the fires
A new era begins

Blinding our sights with treason
Vengeance is the cry unheard
So dawns under blood the season
Bleak is the night
As our wrath is incurred

When in the abyss lies in wait
The gaping world devourer
And in the night we come
And rise up to the blazing skies
We are the ones who walk
Through fire and the darkest hour
And in the face of death and doom
We look through burning eyes

Rise through the fires
With the souls of the dark
Walk through the ashes

Ancient tomb of the kings
Linking the fires
A new era begins

Dreaming in the shadows
Of the night that lies before us
Searing ancient pain and the coming of the storm

Walking in the pyres of a life we left behind us
Rising through the ashes to a future we will form

When in the abyss lies in wait

The gaping world devourer

Rise through the fires
