

Waiting, 'til the stars have gone black
And the still of the night is unbroken
In the light of the moon and the dark of the sun
When the answers are always just lies

And then on we run, from our Avalon
And the thunders are roaring like lions
In the midnight sun, when the end's begun
We will never surrender 'til this fight is won

In the shadows -
We run down the darkest hour of night
In the twilight -
We answer the calling of the wild
Shadowrunners -
We hide from the truth and from the light
Engines ignite, here they come -
Shadowrunners out of sight
Beware the night!

Running, in the still of the night
Where our secrets remain safe forever
When the hours at last, as the shadows we cast
Are long and sing tales of the end

And then on we run, from our Avalon
And our swordblades are gleaming like fire
When truth lies beyond our broken bond
We will never return 'til the battle is won

In the shadows -
We run down the darkest hour of night
In the twilight -
We answer the calling of the wild
Shadowrunners
We hide from the truth and from the light
Engines ignite, he they come
Shadowrunners out of sight
Beware the night!