

Tomorrow Never Comes

Dreadzone

tomorrow never comes when it does its today stick to the path never let it go astray if you wanna know where you're going then you'd better watch where you're coming from if you don't see what is showing then you'll never know where you went wrong searching for clues in the mirror all you can see is a window of pain looking beyond is it clearer then you realise you are dancing again tomorrow never comes when it does its today another opportunity for you to run and play stick to the path never let it go astray you have to love the life you're living when you realise that you are dancing again tune fe mash it up a wid de bad boy riddim wise up rise up fire up and come again love the life you live my friend do you look to stars for the future hoping that numbers will change your game searching for signs and answers wondering if things will stay the same looking beyond tomorrow all you can hear is a haunting refrain listening close it's getting louder then you realise that you're dancing again once again my friend take it to the very end mashing up the style with the mix and the blend only here to please and not to offend check out the vibes that we send what you look for adrenaline or ketamin or vitamin look at your life boy check how you're living never gonna stop and we never gonna give in cos we live the life we love and we love the life were living