I dreamt I woke up in the middle of the night My heart was pounding like a drum The world was coloured, but I was in black and white It was the weirdest of all dreams That I have had A dream so bad I must be going mad Bad dreams Bad dreams Bad, bad dreams And then I woke up - At least that's what I thought Things would be normal again Opened my eyes and saw right through me in the mirror I must be going insane That I have had A dream so bad I must be going mad Bad dreams Bad dreams Bad, bad dreams Bad dreams Bad dreams Bad, bad dreams Bad, bad dreams Bad dreams Bad, bad dreams Bad, bad dreams
