

Betrayed

Dream Evil

Now everything is crystal clear when I found out it was to late I'm living in a darkened world so I feed my anger with my hate all the time you lied
all those tears that you cried you always seem to dessapair everytime I turn my back then I become to be your slave you drank my life out from my vains
all the time you lied
all those tears of blood you gave me nothing in return How can it be, is this reality?
I gave you trust
you give me pain
you took my soul, now give it back to me have all those years be in vain? now it's time to move on, I've realized nothing is warm but feeling pain, right here, paralyzed
all the time you lied
How can it be, is this reality?
I gave you trust
you took my soul, now give it back to me
have all those years be in vain?
