I took you by surpirse and led you through the night I knew you never felt that safe I turn and whisper to you, you turn away I'd never lie to you, my friend But you should know this one thing This thing may one day save your life It's real but you can't touch it In every colour of the light Blind Evil Standing in the darkness Waiting in the pouring rain Blind Evil Want to bring you sadness Beat you to eternal pain You turn away in anger And walked alone You said that I could go to hell But in the street there's something You can't deny The path to death is where we meet But you should know this one thing This thing may one day save your life It's real but you can't touch it In every colour of the light Blind Evil Standing in the darkness Waiting in the pouring rain Blind Evil Want to bring you sadness Beat you to eternal pain (quitar solo) But you should know this one thing This thing may one day save your life It's real but you can't touch it In every colour of the light Blind Evil Standing in the darkness Waiting in the pouring rain Blind Evil Want to bring you sadness Beat you to eternal pain Blind Evil Standing in the darkness Waiting in the pouring rain Blind Evil Want to bring you sadness Beat you to eternal pain
