

Point of No Return

Dream Evil

Since they put you in this place you never understood the reasons why you've just done what they told you you have done what you had to You're standing in a lonely cell and you're waiting for to be called years have come since you got here help forgot why you came here Your memories are blight I faulted you used to do it's all on your mind you're never going back you'll never do the things you did earlier You've reached the point of no return
you've reached
and now your soul is burned You try to run but that's no use the more you run the closer you'll come there is no place for hiding there's just time for dying The man is calling you but you don't want to go it's time to know your fears but you don't want to know 'cause now you've got too far it's no way out
You've reached
the point of no return
you've reached
and now your soul is burned
Since they put you in this place
you have done what you had to You're never going back
You've reached
the point of no return
you've reached
and now your soul is burned
