If you think that you're strong on your own. You best think aga in.

I've been there, I've been everywhere So listen my friend Hear me out let me try to explain I see what you think But a chain is never stronger than, its weakest link Don't be afraid, altogether we can make a change let's all bind together, to form an unbreakable chain You and I belong together we're strong Only the fight remain united we are strong but weak on our own No one can break this chain

No they cannot break this chain..

When you're low, feeling weak and confused - don't be alarmed Cause I'll be there, to back you up like a log - we're brothers in arms.

Immovable stand together in snow, wind and rain the millions of people who've form the unbreakable chain You and I belong together we're strong Only the fight remain united we are strong but weak on our own No one can break this chain No they cannot break this chain.. You and I belong together we're strong Only the fight remain united we are strong but weak on our own No one can break this chain You and I belong Together we're strong Only the fight remain United we are strong

But weak on our own

No one can change how we feel

No! no one can break this chain..of steel
