Where the Rainbow Ends

Dreamtale

In my dream I was in a valley By waters clear as ice Trees and mountains that surround me Nothing so beautiful have I ever seen Can a place like this these days still exist? A place people haven't destroyed yet There's no pollution, just fresh air There are no men who wouldn't care This is the paradise where I want to stay Where no one else can find a way

Where the rainbow ends There I go, there I mend There's the land of the free There's the place where I want to be There Igo-Where the Rainbow Ends

Mystery of this place keeps fascinating me It preoccupies my mind, time after time When I look at the sky and I see birds fly It's a play at my theatre Into this dreamland I always come back Where my life goes on in the same, safe track I'll show you the place you ve never been This is the paradise where I want to stay Where no one else can find the way
