

Another Tribe

dredg

I've forgotten how to smile
A common relapse, a notion of change within
I didn't know I was going to be in a play
Until it was already much too late

They always say they're against the grain, c'mon, they all look the same
They just joined another tribe to help them build up some old lie
Nothing new to see here

Here we go, go again
Following all the trends
It's become an obsession
Yeah, it's time to accept it

Here we go, go again
Following all the trends
It's become an obsession
Yeah, it's time to accept it

It's raining again, creating puddles of uncertainty
It's where my passion ends and the insecurity begins
All of this combined, contaminating me
Maybe someday we will see
Maybe someday we will see

They always say they're against the grain, c'mon, they all look the same
They just joined another tribe to help them build up some old lie
Nothing new to see here

Here we go, go again
Following all the trends
It's become an obsession
Yeah, it's time to accept it

Here we go, go again
Following all the trends
It's become an obsession
Yeah, it's time to accept it

Where is, where is your honesty?
Give us something real
Wipe off your smile
No more deception
Is this real?

Here we go, go again
Following all the trends
It's become an obsession
Yeah, it's time to accept it

Here we go, go again
Following all the trends
It's become an obsession
Yeah, it's time to accept it
