

For The Better

Drew Seeley

The mind can play some tricks
So you must be swift
And you must be quick
To walk around for miles
To enjoy the trials
That comes with this
This thing that we call life
But you are my guarding light
Cause tonight's the night
We hold on to each other
And learn to love another

Cause when you love
When you love
You love, I love, We love
And the whole world
Begins to change
Change for the better
(The Better, the better, the better, the better, the better, the better)
(The Better, the better, the better, the better, the better, the better)
(The Better, the better, the better, the better, the better, the better)

Sometimes it's so hard
Praying to a fall
Belive in that your dying need
But somehow one day be Complete
(but her?) sexy love
Which go beyond and above
That shows you time and time again
That they truly is afraid
Indeed
Cause when you love
When you love
You love, I love, We love
And the whole world
Begins to change
Change for the better
(The Better, the better, the better, the better, the better, the better)
(The Better, the better, the better, the better, the better, the better)
(The Better, the better, the better, the better, the better, the better)

It's easy to believe
It's only you alone
When everything goes wrong
But you compose the song

So easy believe me
The power is in you
There's love in what you do
That sees you through
Cause when you love
When you love
You love, I love, We love
And the whole world
Begins to change
Change for the better

(Better, better, better, better, better, better)
(Better, better, better, better, better, better)
Change just for the better
Better...
Uhuh..
