

Perfect Girl

Driving East

These days I'm over this and all the game your playing. Can you say something I haven't heard before. Wasting time. I know you can't change enough to make me change my mind but chances are you thought you were the last. You were just the latest Perfect girl that I faked out, forever's one more promise that I broken. You're hoping for the better but you're just the latest.

Forget my perfect lines and talk of happy endings, did I make my worst intentions crystal clear. Wasting time. I know you can't change enough to make me change my mind. But chances are you thought you were the last. You're just the latest Perfect girl that I faked out, forever's one more promise that I broken. You're hoping for the better but you're just the latest.

With mascara tears she cries, "?? Goodbye could be the greatest mistake you ever made?? you're just the latest Perfect girl that I faked out, forever's one more promise that I broken. You're hoping for the better but you're just the latest.
