Fall Away

You fall apart and fall away I know It's hard but you'll always be the blame I'll take the part that you can't take away

You are hollow, the one with no soul Can I borrow, a little self control It's hard to swallow, it's hard to fill this whole And I won't follow, so I will let you go

I fall away when I can't take the pain I fall away and find a better place

Resurrect me and help me find my way Disconnecting and look into another day Feel so empty and you are out of reach So preach to me a sermon you can't teach

I fall away when I can't take the pain I fall away when nothing feels the same I fall away and find a better place

The blinding sun told me I'm the one And I knew that this would get me through So you can stay and watch me fall away

I fall away when I can't take the pain I fall away when nothing feels the same I fall away and find a better place I fall away when I can't take the pain So you can stay and watch me fall away
