

The Battle Rages On

Dropkick Murphys

His fists was raised fury
The signal came at dawn
An army at the ready
Their vengeance will be strong

The kingdom (will always make its worth)
The martry (will soon fall on his sword)
The freedom (the battle rages on)
The righteous (will be here when you're gone)

Their voices clash with courage
Their two worlds did collide
it echoes through the ages
They bravely gave their lives

The kingdom (will always make its worth)
The martry (will soon fall on his sword)
The freedom (the battle rages on)
The righteous (will be here when you're gone)

The battle rages on!
Will be here when you're gone!
His fists was raised fury
The signal came at dawn
An army at the ready
Their vengeance will be strong

The kingdom (will always make its worth)
The martry (will soon fall on his sword)
The freedom (the battle rages on)
The righteous (will be here when you're gone)
