

Someone Else Is Getting In

Drowners

Keep all of your fears inside
Allow all of the lies to shine
I thought if I could just let you know
I'd leave it all to chance or let it go
She's hanging out with friends
No doubt comparing notes again
They're on parade I was weeping on
Sheetless mattress on my own

Oh no, you wanted out
I left you for a while
And in that time
Someone else is getting in

Those lips, those lips, those lips, those lips contain your tongue
Firmly planted in your cheek because
For a reason unbeknownst to me
You think that that's the clever way to be
A million things that I can't stand
A million different ways to spoil your plans
I thought if I could just let you know
I'd leave it all to chance or let it go

Oh no, you wanted out
I left you for a while
And in that time
Someone else is getting in

And the weeks I waited just to hear from you
To hear the news that you'd found someone new
Oh the weeks I waited just to hear from you
To hear the news that you'd found someone

Don't wanna party, don't wanna go
Don't wanna party, don't wanna go
And the doc-eyed eyelash look
Well it's the oldest trick in the book
She's hanging out with friends
No doubt comparing notes again
They're on parade I was weeping on
Sheetless mattress on my own

Oh no, you wanted out
I left you for a while
You wanted out

Oh no, you wanted out
And I left you for a while
But in that time
Someone else is getting in