

I try to mean what I say, and say what I mean
I'm not mean when I say it I'm just following my dream
To be honest with myself, and true to my word
Rise high above my ego and be free like a bird
I'm swallowing the sky I'm up so high above the earth
The physical is meaningless now love has given birth
Interacted with my feelings, meditating everyday
My body as no meaning so I simply melt away but Please take my consciousness away
So I can slave away to your games everyday
Interaction of two spirits in the physical plane
Is over ruled by gravity unless a musical chain
Rips the inhibition from your mind and guides you high above
You float upon the rhythm in a melody of love
Your swaying left and right the sound is blowing you a kiss
You let your soul connect within a energy of pure bliss
Your searching for a purity in time you'll always find
And as the frequencies vibrate you lose your mind
So please take my consciousness away
So I can slave away to your games everyday
Selective conversation
A rude evaluation
Spiritual formulation
Digital emulation
Visual stimulation
Subsonic vibration
Insufficient hydration
False communication
Religious obligation
Heavy suffocation
Economic suffocation
Rules and regulation
Money making nation
Private medication
Physical inflation
Social limitation
So please take my consciousness away
So I can slave away to your games everyday
