

Just Not There

Duff McKagan

"Why does everything always end up feeling so goddamn cold"

Once again I woke up this morning
And a warm spot still long cold gone
Then smell of you and your sweet perfume Still lingers on, lingers on, lingers on

Chorus
I wrap my arms around you
But all I get is icy cold yeah

Run my hands through Your long blonde hair
But once again you're just not there
Just not there

You know I look but just can't find the reasons
To face another day Cause I feel like crawling up inside girl Just fading away, fading away, fading away...

Chorus

That's alright, girl
I want you to know that I'll keep on walking I got both my feet on the ground And check it out I'm gonna stick it to you

Yesterday I met a girl just like you She had the same smile and same sweet perfume
So I turned around and walked away Me, my blade and my bottle of blues
My bottle of blues
My bottle of blues

Chorus
Repeat

That's alright, girl
I keep walking, I keep walking, I keep walking, I keep walking, I keep walking
