

What Are We Waiting For

Duncan James

Everybody wants to love somebody,
It's really simple but it's not that easy,
Everybody needs some reassurance,
But when you break it down, they don't believe it,
Everybody dreams of a perfect ending,
But it's not a film, and I'm not pretending,

So won't you tell me,
Does everybody feel the same,
Like you and me,
Why can't you help me,
We've only got ourselves to blame,
Just you and me,
Why can't we fight,
Maybe if we'd join together,
Just you and me,
Believe some
What are we waiting for?

Did I show you something,
A little bit frightening,
Didn't mean to scare you,
But I thought you should know,
That I need my distance,
But I want you closer,
Am I making sense?
Cause I don't think so
And you're wilding,
You gotta take your freedom
But remember me,
Let the gardner beat them

So won't you tell me,
Does everybody feel the same,
Like you and me,
Why can't you help me,
We've only got ourselves to blame,
Just you and me,
Why can't we fight,
Maybe if we'd join together,
Just you and me,
Believe some
What are we waiting for?

Isn't there something better?
Just a little more?
We could never die this way, don't you know?

So won't you tell me,
Does everybody feel the same,
Like you and me,
Why can't you help me,
We've only got ourselves to blame,
Just you and me,
Why can't we fight,
Maybe if we'd join together,
Just you and me,

Believe some
What are we waiting for?

Oh we waiting for,
Yeah yeah,
Waiting for,
Yeah,
What are we waiting for?
